DESCRIPTION: You have been asked to participate in a research project for the purpose of learning more about how psychological states such as stress influence susceptibility to upper respiratory infection. During your first day in the hotel you will be asked to fill out a set of psychological questionnaires.

RIGHT TO REFUSE OR WITHDRAW: You are free to refuse to participate in this portion of the study. Your refusal will not affect your compensation.

PRIVACY: Any information gained in this study may be published in a scientific journal, but your confidentiality will be respected and no names will be used within any reports.

VOLUNTARY CONSENT: I have read this form or it has been read to me. The doctors in charge of the project, Drs. Cohen and Skoner, will be available if I have any questions. My signature means I have freely agreed to take part in this research project.
